(Photo: Miss Namibia/YouTube) In Namibia, tribal identity is a highly valued — and highly political — attribute. For the Miss Namibia beauty pageant, tribal pride is shown through a traditional fashion competition, where contestants dress up in traditional Namibian outfits including feathered and braided hair, jewelry and necklaces. As you watch the videos of the remaining contestants, you'll see that tribal pride runs deeper than clothes and cosmetics. In fact, it runs through their blood. Namibia, a landlocked country in Southern Africa, is rich in its history, culture, and natural beauty, but the future of the country rests largely on its diversity and its people. As the country moves c6a93da74d
