No piloting pixels required. No matter how big or small, how fast or slow your image motion is, no matter where the diamonds in your diamond collection, even when the depth of field is everything, all the local adjustments you can make on an image are already optimized and ready to be applied to any part of the image. As you work, you'll see in your preview window the effects that you're working on. Simply click the "Edit in Preview" check box at the bottom so you can see what adjustments you're making in real time.
